This is the only surf specific guidebook I could find, I spent a month down there with it. It led us to many spots that there would be no other way to find. Odometer setting gets you through a vast network of obscure, unmarked dirt roads and magically to the camp/surf spots of your dreams! True Baja vets surely know of countless breaks that are not listed here but this is a very good start.

Damn good guide, well worth the $$$$. Covers from Cal/Mex border, all the way down and around East Cape.

I just got back from an awesome trip, due in large part to this guide. Highly detailed, awesome camp recommendations and accurate surf descriptions. A must if you're going to surf in Baja. Hint: I bought mine at a local surf shop and it cost $25. Also, I recommend Baja Camping (Fred Jones and Gloria Jones) as a great complementary guide for camping along the way, between the 2 books we had no trouble finding great options and navigating to the spots.

We just got back from Baja Norte and found this book to be invaluable. It doesn't show every single break but it definitely gets you easily and accurately to the best known and more popular surf spots. From there you can find the lesser known, less crowded spots. Don't think twice about whether or not to buy this guide, it's the best one we found.

This is the one truly invaluable tool I took with me to Baja. It was detailed and precise, and really took a lot of work out of the planning. Basically it's the bible when it comes to surfing through Baja I wouldn't think about leaving without it
